

BIG MOB ATTACKED
AN ENGLISH MISSIONENGLISH INSTITUTION NEAR JERUSALEM WAS LOOTED.

The Missionaries Make Their Escape To Safe Places, But Many Servants are Killed—Powers Renew Their Demand Upon the Sultan—Women Pray For Protection.

Constantinople, Nov. 12.—The English mission near Jerusalem has been attacked by a riotous mob. The missionaries escaped, but some of the servants of the mission were killed.

As a result of the exchange of numerous telegrams between the representatives of the powers and their respective governments, lasting nearly all Saturday and Sunday, an important meeting of the ambassadors was held Sunday, and the situation was thoroughly discussed. Finally it was decided to send fresh representations to the Turkish minister for foreign affairs, Tewfik Pasha, renewing, in much stronger language, the demands addressed by the ambassadors to Tewfik Pasha's predecessor, Said Pasha, on Nov. 5, and insisting upon being informed, without further delay, as to what measures the portie contemplates taking in order to restore order in Armenia, and reminding the Turkish government that it has already been notified of the intention of the powers, acting in concert, to take their own steps in the matter should it develop that the action of the portie is inadequate to deal with the state of anarchy prevailing in Anatolia.

It is known that the sultan still refuses to believe that the powers are in accord as to the action to be taken in case of the portie's failure to restore order in the Turkish empire. No amount of persuasion seems to be strong enough to bring Abdul Hamid to reason, and the opinion is freely expressed that nothing short of a naval demonstration will awaken the Turks to a realization of the actual condition of affairs.

It is true that a semblance of activity is displayed by the portie. It announced yesterday that it had decided to call out many reserves, and that steps were being taken to send 120,000 troops against the Kurds; but, in view of the financial situation here, it is considered more than doubtful whether the portie would be able to carry out its plans, even if there were a genuine desire to suppress the uprising, which has now become almost general throughout Armenia.

The most horrible accounts are constantly arriving here, in spite of the efforts taken to suppress them, of massacres and depredations in the eastern provinces, in which the Kurdish tribes are said to have perpetrated atrocities more terrible than any before credited to them. It is stated upon apparently good authority that whole districts of Erzerum and Sivas, the scenes of so much bloodshed in the past, have been devastated by the Kurds, who have wiped village after village out of existence, and that the sword and fire are sweeping over the country. The rioting and bloodshed at Erzerum are said to have been much more serious than any reports previously made public have pictured them, and it is asserted that even the presence of Shakh Pasha with his troops failed to stop the massacre. The unresisting Armenian men, women and children were bludgeoned to death by hundreds on the streets.

A traveler who arrived here recently from Trebizond says that he met between Erzerum and Baiburt 300 women, who fell on their knees by the roadside, imploring protection, saying that their husbands were murdered, and that they were starving and homeless. The rising of the Druses is extending on all sides, and several villages of the district of Bauran has been destroyed by fire.

Maher Easily Defeats O'Donnell.

Maspeh, L. I., Nov. 12.—The scheduled twenty-five-round mill between Peter Maher, the Irish champion, and Steve O'Donnell of Australia, who has been long associated with Champion Corbett as sparring partner, came to an untimely end last night. It was one of the shortest battles on record, for O'Donnell was knocked out in one round, only sixty-three seconds from the start. Maher never gave his opponent a chance, but knocked him down three times in succession and the last time O'Donnell could not rise.

Waller to Be Released.

Washington, Nov. 12.—There is a definite understanding among the attaches at the French legation that ex-Consul Waller will be released before New Year's day. This, it is said, is part of the program of the new radical ministry in France to extend amnesty to all political offenders. Waller's release will come, it is understood, as part of a general scheme of forgiveness and will be in no sense the result of any representations by the United States authorities.

FREEDMAN'S AID SOCIETY.

Gathering of Representative Methodist Clergymen at Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Representatives of the Freedman's Aid and Southern Educational Societies of the Methodist Episcopal church met yesterday at the First Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. R. S. Rust, of Cincinnati, who is spoken of as the founder of the society, gave a brief account of its origin and history. The first business of the meeting was to hear the report of the board of managers for the years 1894 and 1895, which was read by Dr. J. C. Hartzell. In brief the report shows that during the past year forty-four institutions of learning have been maintained. Of these twenty-two are among the colored people, with 304 teachers and 4,845 students. Twenty-two schools are among the white people, with 169 teachers and 2,880 students, thus giving a teaching force of 473 and a total enrollment of 8,725. The school property is valued at $1,969,800, of which $1,691,800 is owned by the society. During the year ending June 30, 1895, the total receipts were $367,869 and the expenditures were $358,560, leaving a balance in the treasury amounting to $9,309. Of the above amount $250,560 was expended directly in school work. The indebtedness of the society is $185,390. This morning the question of how the collections from the conferences can best be increased will be taken up. Tonight the greater part of the representatives present will leave for Denver to attend the session of the missionary society.

EUROPE IN A FLUTTER.

Dealers in Stocks Uneasy Over Rumors of War.

London, Nov. 12.—The stock markets here reflect the uncertainty on the continent over the rumors of war. The action of the Imperial Bank at Berlin in raising its discount rates and the fall of the price of securities in Paris left a general state of insecurity. Prices were better yesterday in all departments. The recovery would have been more marked but for the anxiety felt in regard to the coming settlement. A series of failures is feared here and abroad. It appears already that the accounts of a firm interested in 60,000 shares, of which 30,000 are Chartered, are now being closed. Many others, mostly small, will, it is feared, succumb.

Paris, Nov. 12.—The Rappel says the great financial houses have decided to place at the disposal of the market from 50,000,000 to 100,000,000 francs ($9,500,000 to $19,000,000) in order to facilitate a settlement. The speech of the marquis of Salisbury, delivered in London on Saturday last, has had a good effect here.

He is feeling very much discouraged now, and almost his only hope of securing his liberty is that the court will order him released as a humane act to save his life.

Christian Workers Quarrel.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 12.—The convention of the Christian Workers yesterday had more local interest than at any session previously because of the alleged statement made Sunday by President R. T. Torrey, of Chicago, that New Haven was the wickedest city in the country. While the speaker claims that he has been misquoted, Rev. Watson L. Phillips, pastor of the Church of the Redeemer of this city, affirms that Mr. Torrey's statement was in effect as quoted.

TWO BOLD BANDITS
MAKE A RICH HAULROBBERS GET $20,000 FOR A NIGHT'S WORK.

Held Up the Agent of the Wells Fargo Express Co. at Colorado Springs and Compelled Him To Open Up the Safe in The Depot—Thieves Made Their Escape.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Nov. 12.—A few minutes after midnight last night news reached police headquarters that the Santa Fe Wells-Fargo express agent at this point had been held up and relieved of $20,000 in cash.

The Santa Fe fast Chicago train arrived here at 9:42 and stopped. The agent, George Krout, stepped out on the platform to attend to the express matter, and after arranging everything waved his hand at the messenger on the train and it pulled out of the depot, south-bound toward Pueblo.

The train moved out and after its departure the night agent busied himself as is customary for a time on the platform arranging matters for a later train.

The departing train was out of sight in a few moments around the bend in the road and the agent was on the point of turning back into the station when someone commanded:

"Throw up your hands."

He whirled around to see two short, thick-set and heavily masked men, each of whom held a revolver in his hands. "Move quick, and get into the station," came the order.

The agent passed back into the room, where he was told to open the safe. This he at first refused to do, but the cold steel of the muzzle of the revolvers staring him in the face was too much for him. He started to say something, but was told to keep quiet.

When the robbers first entered the place they found a $15,000 package lying on the table. This Krout told them was all he had, but he finally admitted that there was $5,000 more in the safe. They forced him to open the strong box and give them the $5,000, but when he closed the door he shut in $35,000 that the robbers knew nothing about.

Krout was then made to undress himself and go to bed and cover himself, and while lying there the thieves made their escape.

The place where the robbery occurred is on the outskirts of the town east of the city, and is brilliantly lighted by great arc electric lights on all sides. The place where the money was kept was in a small house two hundred yards from the depot and divided into two compartments. Krout sleeps there.

There had been shipped by Wells-Fargo yesterday upward of $50,000 to the Cripple Creek gold fields, and the thieves must have known of it, for they were abrupt and seemed to know what they were doing.

They escaped in the direction of Pike's Peak avenue, and M. D. Andre, the Wells-Fargo head agent here, is now in pursuit with blood hounds.

USES STRONG LANGUAGE.

Capt. Miller Says Spaniards Have No Respect for Our Flag.

New York, Nov. 12.—Captain Frank L. Miller, of the American brig Harriet G., which on leaving the Cuban port of Nuevitas, October 3, was searched by Spaniards, who claimed to be looking for arms, said last night: "It has been incorrectly stated that I was not flying the stars and stripes when the search was made. This was not the case. The search was made by nine men, under the leadership of a Spanish officer. My protests were unavailing. The American consul witnessed part of the search and joined in the protest. It was useless, however. The Spaniards don't care a continental for American rights and would insult our flag whenever opportunity offered. Had my vessel flown the British flag not a Spaniard would have dared attempt a search."

CANADA FAVORS WARSHIPS.

Thinks The United States Does Not Construe the Treaty of 1871 Rightly.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 12.—Opinion on this side of the line appears to differ from President Cleveland's interpretation of the treaty of 1871 regarding the right of Canada or the United States to build warships on the great lakes. Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian minister of justice, formerly minister of marine, being asked whether Canada has not infringed the treaty in constructing cruisers on the lakes, said they were only revenue cruisers. The treaty stipulates that the naval force of each country shall consist of not more than one vessel not exceeding 100 tons burden and armed with one 18-pound cannon on Lake Ontario, two such vessels on the upper lakes and one such vessel on Lake Champlain.

A doubt has arisen over the clause in which it was agreed that all other armed vessels on those lakes should be dismantled and that no other vessels of war should be there built or armed. The Canadian government has built three armed cruisers on the lakes since 1891—the Curfew, the Constance and the Petrel. The Constance and her sister ships are armed with three quick-firing guns, and are far superior to the boats maintained on the lakes by the United States revenue department, and in case they were ever needed for such purpose they would make very formidable lake commerce destroyers.

It will be an interesting question to solve as to how far the equipment and armor of a revenue cruiser may be carried in her construction, and where the line is to be drawn between a revenue cruiser, available for revenue purposes only, and that may be put to more severe defensive or offensive purposes when national exigencies demand it.

KEEP PREPARED.

The Slogan of the Business and Professional Man.

The Sure Hope of the Busy Brain Worker.

The Only Protection of Those Who Work and Toil.

Keep Yourself Strong, Vigorous and Well.

By Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

Nothing contributes to success like preparation. In every department of human activity this truth is constantly illustrated.

During the war of the Rebellion the issues of battles were quite as often decided by the relative conditions, as by the strength of forces. The general or commanding officer who was best prepared gained the day; the surprised army was generally routed.

So in our daily affairs, the professional or business man who is constantly prepared for emergencies conquers his circumstances, emerges from every difficulty triumphant, and is a success; while the men and women whom events find unprepared are overcome or injured in their several ventures. Preparation is half of any battle in life.

FREDERICK P. COGGESHALL.

So it is in regard to our health. If we keep our system in sound condition to meet the various conditions of weather, the prevalent possibilities of contracting disease, and especially the great strain, wear and fatigue of our hurrying, rushing daily life, we are always prepared against these dangers.

The first requisite is pure blood and strong nerves. They command health and exempt us from the liability of sickness.

Don't neglect it. Don't think because you are well you are safe. It is not so the blood needs attention. It requires toning, needs correcting often before it gives any sign. The nerve energies and strength are being constantly used up in business, pleasure or dissipation and need invigorating. Keep well and strong by taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, for its chief merit is that it not only cures weakness and disease but is a sure preventive of breaking down from overwork or other causes a sure renewer of strength, power and vigor. It is recognized everywhere as the greatest medical discovery of the age because of this grand quality. It makes you well and keeps you well.

Mr. Frederick P. Coggeshall, the veteran bookseller of Lowell, Mass., used it and it made him well and kept him strong to work, vigorous to think and to plan, full of power, energy and ambition. He says:

"My trouble was an affection of the head. I would go to bed and sleep like an infant all night, but would waken in the morning with a terrible pain in the head, which utterly incapacitated me for business. Getting no relief from remedies tried, a friend recommended me to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I took the advice of my friend, and after taking it for five days I began to experience great relief and was soon able to attend to business.

"If restless or troubled with insomnia at night, I always take a dose of Nervura and get immediate relief. The invigorating qualities of the medicine are simply marvelous and after four or five doses I feel all right again. Other members of my family have used the Nervura and I strongly recommend it to all persons of a nervous temperament, or those suffering from undue mental or physical strain.

Why waste time in trying uncertain and untried remedies, when here is a physician's prescription, a discovery made by the greatest living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York City. If you take this medicine you can consider yourself under Dr. Greene's direct professional care, and you can consult him or write to him about your case freely and without charge. This is a guarantee that this remedy will cure, possessed by no other medicine in the world.

KNIGHTS SAT ABOUT THE BANQUET BOARD

NEARLY A HUNDRED GATHERED AT THE PARK.

Tempting Menu Served by Landlord Johnson—Ogden H. Fethers Officiated as Toastmaster and S. B. Smith, E. F. Hansen, C. E. Lee, T. S. Nolan and F. M. Marzluff spoke.

Ninety Knights of Pythias were entertained at a banquet in the Park Hotel last evening. Delegations from Beloit and Evansville were included in this number and from eleven o'clock until 1, song, speech and story alternated. The tables were very tastefully decorated being embellished by palms and ferns. The menu was:

Bouillon en tasse, Escalloped oysters, Chicken salad, Cold turkey, Coffee, Saratoga chips, Cold roast ham.

Ogden H. Fethers sat at the head of the room and officiated as toastmaster. He made a few graceful remarks in opening, regarding Wisconsin's standing in Pythian circles and then called on Stanley B. Smith who discussed Pythians and finance and agreed with the toastmaster that bankers regarded any note as perfectly good when a Pythian signed it—never requiring more than five or six good names on the note as endorsers.

Chancellor Commander Smith and C. E. Lee of Evansville, Sir Knights Hanson and Todd of Beloit, O. F. Nowlan, F. M. Marzluff, M. G. Jeffris, T. S. Nolan and others made brief remarks and the banquet ended by all singing "Old Lang Syne," led by C. N. Vankirk.

Before the banquet Castle Hall was crowded while the work of the third rank was exemplified. Later a second rank was conferred.

Slims and Stouts.

Adler Bros. have made a great hit on fitting long slim men and short fat men and it is not necessary for men of such builds to go to a tailor and pay a large price to insure a fit. One look and one try on and you are fitted, not at the tailors. Ask to see Adler Bros. goods at F. H. Baack's.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1400—Death of Chaucer, father of English poetry; born 1328.

1845—Inauguration of the French constitution of 1848, establishing the republic. Louis Napoleon was then a member of the national assembly and in the month following was elected president by a popular vote.

1857—Beginning of the commercial panic in England, which soon extended to the United States. In England the failure of banking companies and private firms was of a magnitude hitherto unheard of. The liabilities of five of the more important banks aggregated £16,000,000, and those of 146 firms swelled the total to over £40,000,000. Discount stood at 9 per cent as against the usual rate of 5%. The government went to the rescue by suspending the bank charter act of 1844, and the issue was increased to £2,000,000 in excess of the statutory amount.

1891—Colonel Don Platt, journalist, died in Cleveland; born in Cincinnati 1819.

A RELIABLE PILE CURE.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is the safest and surest pile cure on the market, because it contains no mineral poisons nor opium nor cocaine, but can be used with absolute safety and certainty of cure.

Many physicians are now using the Pyramid Pile Cure in place of surgical operations, being painless, convenient to use, and the patient can attend to his daily occupation while the cure is being made, as it is used at night and no additional treatment is necessary.

Dr. Wharton says the Pyramid Pile Cure will prove a blessing to mankind, when it is remembered that heretofore a surgical operation was considered the only cure with all its danger to life, intense pain and an expense of from ten to one hundred dollars, to say nothing of the possible return of the trouble. The Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists at 50 Cents and $1.00 and does the work quickly and safely.

A book on cause and cure of piles will be mailed free by addressing Pyramid Co., Albion, Mich.

YOU ALL KNOW IT.

THE SHIRT MY FATHER WORE.

[From the Chronicle.]

My father bought an undershirt of bright and flaming red—

"All wool," I'm ready to assert,

"Fleece dyed," the merchant said,

"Your size is thirty-eight, I think,

And forty you should get,

Since all wool goods are bound to shrink A trifle when they're wet."

That shirt two weeks my father wore—

Two washings, that was all—

From forty down to thirty-four

It shrank like leaf in fall.

I wore it then a day or two,

But when I was washed again

My wife said: "Now 'twill only do For little brother Ben."

A fortnight Ben squeezed into it

At last he said it hurt—

We put it on our babe—the fit

Was good as any shirt

We never will wash it more while yet

We see its flickering light,

For if again that shirt is wet

'Twill vanish from our sight.

We are agents for the JAROS. Cannot shrink. Fits like a glove. You can get along without an overcoat. You can keep well without Jaros Hygienic Underwear, but it isn't so easy.

COUNTY BOARD STRONGLY FAVORS THE OHIOAN.

New Poor Farm Cost the Taxpayer Last Year Only $1100 and This Year No Appropriation Increasing This Levy Will Be Asked—County Board In Session.

Rock County supervisors with but three exceptions want McKinley for president. A straw vote, taken among the republicans by a curious member before Chairman Henry Tarrant called the board together at 2 o'clock, revealed this fact.

All were for McKinley save two who preferred Reed, and one who would like Allison.

Trustee S. T. Merrill made the most important statement that was laid before the board during the afternoon. He reported, in behalf of the trustees, that the new poor farm had been run a year at an expense to the county of only $1,100, and that for the coming year no appropriation whatever increasing the tax in the county would be requested.

An aged desolation,
She sits by old Shannon's flowing,
A mother of many children,
Of children exiled and dead.
In her home, with bent head, homeless,
Clasping her knees, she sits,
Keening, keening!

And at her knee the fairy grass
Trembles on dun and barrow.
Around the foot of her ancient crosses
The grave grass shakes and the nettle swings.
In haunted glens the meadow sweet
Flings to the night wind
Her mystic mournful perfume.
The sad spear-mint by holy wells
Breathes melancholy balm.

DEFENSE OF DAMLI.

It was sultry in the smoking room. For one thing the weather was hot, for another, the commodore had just finished a yarn. Markham always maintained that the atmosphere became sulphurous after the commodore had recounted a personal reminiscence, but then he was given to exaggeration. Still we felt grateful that the story had passed off without the intervention of a thunder-bolt and sat gasping relief and credulity. Then Mildmay, from sheer nervousness, I believe, not from any desire for a recurrence of the Ananias episode, stirred up the colonel. The colonel was sitting behind a big cheroof, evidently incubating a kettle wherein to cook the commodore's cabbage.

"Wonderful escape that, sir!" said Mildmay, addressing the colonel.

"Yes, sir. We in the service in the old days, before it became a school for step dancing and circus riding, used to have experiences which the country never heard of. Adventures were common as bilberries, sir, in those days. Gad, sir, a British soldier in those days thought no more of walking 1,000 miles through the enemy's country than you do of step dancing round the park.

"Probably, sir, you've never heard of the defense of Fort Damli? No, sir, I don't blame you, sir, if you have not heard of a feat of arms which preserved half a continent for her majesty. God bless her! We've all heard of suppressed dispatches and ingratitude in high places lest the feather bed step dancers should be replaced by men.

"It was in—never mind the date, sir, and never mind the place. If I mentioned it, you would recall the episode, and it is not for me to boast by telling the full extent of the services it was my good fortune to render this country.

"A foreign power (no, sir, I will mention no name—damme, sir! I hope I know my duty better than to rekindle international complications) had stirred up the niggers against us. I was in command of Fort Damli, sir, at that time, with a handful of men—a mere handful—but men, sir, such as your dancing schools do not turn out nowadays.

"Fort Damli is built on a promontory running out into the sea and is only get-at-able from one side. The niggers had massed all their forces in the plain in front of the fort. Twenty thousand of them, sir—or rather, as I wish to guard against exaggeration, I will say that I counted 19,863—a swarming over the plain thick as cheese mites in a Stilton.

"I had 93 men all told, including a one eyed drummer boy, but we laughed at them, sir. Whenever the niggers came at the fort, we loaded our big guns with broken bottles, bedsteads, war office regulations, which was about the only thing they had supplied us with from home, and mowed them down by the dozens. When they reached the walls my boys, giving them cold pig, took tea with the niggers.

"I used to sit on the powder magazine, smoking a cheroof, as comfortably as I'm doing now. Gad, sir, how it all comes back to me! That little devil of a drummer used to nip out after the fight and mend his drum with niggers' skins. After about a fortnight of it we had the niggers piled up three deep facing the fort.

"Well, we had held that fort for seven weeks—no, damme, let's be accurate, for 48 days—and we looked like holding it for seven years, or until there wasn't a nigger left to come on, when one afternoon, it was about half past 4 on Feb. 21—I'm not likely to forget that date in a hurry—Lieutenant Simpkins of the Bombardiers, my subaltern, came to me and said: 'It's all up, sir. We haven't a round of ammunition left, and the niggers are preparing for a general assault tonight.' He was a brave man, was Simpkins—fell afterward at Seringapatam, cut clean in half by a cannon ball—but he looked a bit scared then.

"Is that all? I said offhand. 'Then we shall have some fun with the bayonet. I am surprised at you, sir, for reporting such a trifle.' After this rebuke I turned away, when the little drummer almost ran into me in his excitement.

"Captain," said he, saluting—I was only a captain in those days—"three men-of-war reported in the bay." I looked out to sea and saw, as plainly as I see you, sir, three frigates standing on the horizon, flying the—flying the flag of the foreign power which was aiding and abetting the niggers.

"Well, sir, I must admit that when I saw these ships and remembered that we had not a grain of powder in the whole blessed fort I admit, sir, that, for a moment, I felt at a loss. Another man, who was less anxious to keep to facts, might tell you, sir, that he never hesitated, but I, wishing to deal with things as they were, I confess I felt at a loss.

"But only for a moment. Lieutenant Simpkins said, with a sort of grin, 'Now, sir, you had better surrender to the Fr—to the foreign power.' 'Sir,' I answered, drawing myself up, 'a Tomlinson dies, but never surrenders.' I beg your pardon? Yes, sir; quite right. By a perversion of history these words were attributed to Blucher at Sedan. But I hope, sir, you will allow that I ought to know when they were first uttered. Blucher may have adapted them. I make no complaint. Well, as I said, for a moment—a breathing space—I felt that the game was indeed up. I sat down on one of the now useless 40 pounders to review the situation. As I meditated my eye fell on some coils of telegraph wire which Hudson of the survey department had brought into the fort before the outbreak of the disturbance, to connect us with the capital. As my glance fell upon it a thought flashed through my brain.

"Saved!" I cried, leaping from the cannon. 'The captain's got 'em again,' remarked that devil's imp of a drummer boy. Without heeding this breach of discipline I sent for Hudson. In a few words I whispered my idea to him. He caught my idea at once. 'Captain,' he cried, 'you are a genius, a marvel, a'— However, it is not for me to repeat the compliments, perhaps not altogether undeserved, he paid my resource.

"With his help I wound the telegraph wire round two cannons, connecting every two guns with a spool of wire. In this way we connected eight guns on the land side of the fort and six commanding the bay. Then the wires from each gun were taken into the powder magazine, where Hudson had rigged up an infernal machine of his own devising.

"We had hardly completed our work when night fell. 'You are sure they haven't any muskets?' Hudson said to me before we separated for the night. 'Perfectly,' I answered. 'Only spears and knives.' 'Then it ought to be all right,' he murmured, 'but how about the ships?' 'Let's settle the niggers first,' I replied. 'Sufficient for the day are the ructions thereof.'

"With these remarks he left me, and I sat in my powder magazine awaiting events. The hours crept by very slowly. I tingled with excitement, for I knew the next hour would determine our fate. At length in the pitchy darkness the drummer boy, with his only eye glowing in the blackness like a carbuncle, whispered softly, 'Captain, they're coming!' Still I waited.

"Then in the deathlike stillness a yell broke on the startled air. I knew the crucial moment had come, and I—I pressed a button. There was a whirling sound. Then all was quiet again until a cheer from my men rang out and I knew that all was well. Seizing my club I hurried out into the darkness. Everything was as dark as—as the war office—and the fort was deserted.

"Just outside the gate I stumbled across a body. I turned it over with my foot. It was a nigger in full warpaint and unarmed. Then I knew that my plan had succeeded. Hurrying forward, whither a dull thud, varied by an occasional groan, guided me, I found my gallant Bombardiers clubbing for dear life—for the bayonets and barrels of their muskets had been removed by my orders—among a scurrying crowd of savages.

"Well, sir, we banged and banged until we could no longer raise our arms. As day broke I ordered the drummer to beat to quarters. He was nowhere to be found. Shouting to my men, I bade them retire to the fort. Then the sun rose, and what a sight met our eyes! Every cannon in the fort was studded with spears and knives as thick as a pudding is of plums, as close as a pin-cushion is of pins.

"What had happened will be obvious to you, sir. By the telegraph wires and an electric battery in the powder magazine I had turned all my cannons into electro magnets of 40 horsepower. Consequently as soon as the enemy were within range I turned on the current. Every steel weapon in the hands of the niggers simply whirled out of their grasp and stuck like horse leeches to my magnets.

"The absence of the drummer boy was soon explained. As, against my distinct orders, he had been wearing a hanger when I turned the current on, he flew against the nearest gun and stuck there as a C. O. does to a decoration. It took six men to haul him off.

"Then, in the joy of victory, a sudden dread came upon me. How about the three men-of-war? The foreign power ought to have landed its myrmidons by this time. Scourged by my apprehensions, I hurried to the seaward battlements of the fort. There, in the gray dawn, a strange sight met my eyes.

"Nailed to the cruel rocks to the westward of Damli lay those three men-of-war, hopeless wrecks, buffeted by the waves against the grinding crags. What had happened was simple enough. Damme, sir, it flashed across me in an instant. The force of my seaward magnets had been such that it had deranged the compasses of these vessels. Following their distorted guidance, they had run ashore on the reef westward of the fort.

"Even as I watched I saw a boat push off from the wrecked flagship. At once I donned the graceful uniform of my regiment, the Munchausen's Own, as the service fondly termed it, and drew up my gallant 93 in platoons to await our vanquished foe. A tall officer, of gallant bearing, his dripping uniform decorated with a star, stepped ashore.

"Field marshal," said he, bowing to me with a grace that left me no doubt that I was standing in the presence of a prince of blood royal, 'I have the honor to surrender to you my sword!'

"Not field marshal," I answered, accepting the sword as I marked the diamonds flashing in its hilt, 'only a captain of her majesty's loyal regiment of Munchausen's Own.' 'Ah,' said his highness, turning to his followers, 'what chance have we against a nation where such men are only captains?' Bowing low, he followed me, my prisoner, into the fort.

"That, sir, is the true history of the defense of Damli. The end is plain. After my victory they sent a general from home, who reaped its fruits, who was rewarded by a grateful country by sticking every condemned letter of the alphabet after his blighted name. But the nation has yet to learn to whose resource they owe the victory of Damli. You were pleased to observe, sir? Eh, sir? What, sir? Your obedient servant, sir. Waiter, two of the same, with a slice of lemon."—New Budget.

A SHORT CURE

A Doctor's Experience With a Bad Case of Kidney Disease.

Sparagus Kidney Pills Perform a Complete Cure in a Short Time.

Symptoms of Kidney Diseases and Why They Are Dangerous.

Dr. T. F. Joyce, of Lynn, Mass., a graduate of the New York University, '83, uses Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills in his practice.

It is unusual for regular physicians to use proprietary medicines, but many use Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills. They do so because they know that the principal ingredient is a special extract made from the root of asparagus, containing all its virtues in a concentrated form. They do so because they know that Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless.

They do it most of all because they have found Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills will cure, in cases where the drugs of the pharmacopoeia have been unable even to afford relief.

Dr. Joyce writes: LYNN, Mass., Aug. 9, 1895. Hobb's Medicine Co., Chicago, Ill. Gentlemen:—

When my attention was first called to Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills, and their component parts made known to me, I was forcibly impressed with the combination as being one of great value for kidney diseases and all other ailments arising therefrom.

I found in one particular case, which had baffled all my previous efforts, that they performed a remarkable and complete cure in a very short time, and ever since I have used them in my practice with the most pleasing results in all cases.

Very truly yours, T. F. JOYCE, M. D.

Bright's disease is a dangerous disease of the kidneys. It is caused by overwork, worry, over eating, etc., and other excesses. It is dangerous because it has few or no well known symptoms.

You do not think you are sick until it is often too late to cure.

The symptoms of kidney disease in general are pain in the sides and back, headache, nervousness, frequent thirst, evil forebodings, shortness of breath on the slightest exertion, chilly sensations, sleeplessness, puffiness of the eyelids, swelling of the feet and ankles, loss of flesh, etc.

Any of these symptoms may be the proof of kidney disease, but they are seldom laid to their true cause.

To prevent mistakes, they should be treated, as soon as they appear, with Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

This will cure the kidneys and relieve the symptoms in a very short time.

The cure made will be permanent, and the symptoms will never come back, unless you overwork your kidneys.

Your health depends on your kidneys.

They filter your blood. When they don't, you fall sick as a natural consequence.

Falling sick is simply the poison in our blood making itself felt.

If you can take out the poison you will be well.

This is for the kidneys to do.

They will do it if they are well.

If they are sick, you can cure them with Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

The diseases and symptoms that Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills will cure, by curing the kidneys, are: rheumatism, gout, anaemia, chlorosis, depression of spirits, lack of ambition, neuralgia, pale and sallow complexion, general muscular weakness and all skin diseases.

All these are caused by poorness of blood, or poison in the blood.

They can only be permanently cured with Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, prepaid to any address, for 50 cents per box.

Write for valuable medical pamphlet, "A Filter For Your Blood," mailed free on request. Hobb's Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco.

Physicians Have Found Out that a contaminating and foreign element in the blood, developed by indigestion, is the cause of rheumatism. This settles upon the sensitive subcutaneous covering of the muscles and ligaments of the joints, causing constant shifting pain, and aggregating as a calcareous deposit, which produces stiffness and distortion of the joints. No fact which experience has demonstrated regarding Bright's Stomach Bitters has stronger evidence to support than this, namely that this medicine of comestible uses checks the formidable and atrocious disease, nor is it less suitably established than it is preferable to the poisons often used to arrest it, since the medicine contains only salutary ingredients. It is a signal remedy for malarial fevers, constipation, dyspepsia, kidney and bladder ailments, and all other disorders. See that you get the genuine.

Why He Was Late.

"What makes you so late coming to school this morning?" asked Mr. Leonard, a teacher in one of the New York public schools, to a tardy pupil named Edward Brooke.

"They arrested a burglar in Fifty-fifth street and ma sent me to the station house to see if it was pa," was the reply.—Texas Siftings.

Plenty of Subjects.

De Reader—What? You never read novels? Don't even know the names of the popular works of the day? What do you find to talk about when in the society of young ladies?

De Ribbon—Plenty of things. I'm in an importing house—dry goods, most—N. Y. Weekly.

BOOKS READ BY NEW WOMAN.

Consensus of Reports Shows a Change in Taste.

Does the "new woman" read a different class of books from her predecessor, the old-fashioned woman?

This is the query I gave some librarians to answer, and I learned in return that the new woman does. "I don't mean to say," one replied, "that every woman who comes in to get a book eschews the romantic and new, but the surprising fact is that so many actually ask for the deepest works on political subjects. My assistant and myself were at first amused, now we regard it as a significant movement.

The change began, I gathered from a consensus of reports, about three years ago; since then it has rapidly broadened and deepened. All works on sociology and political science are called for as eagerly by one sex as the other. The favorites seem to be Prof. Ely's series on political science. All governmental questions are carefully studied, and anything that relates to the tariff is popular.

"To my mind," said an aged keeper of books, "the American woman, as she is represented in New York by her reading, is developing in a political way marvelously; not that it will have any effect in helping them to obtain suffrage, but such powers will make them powers behind the throne."

Take the French woman of De Staël's era and the English woman of to-day—they are amazingly learned in local political meanings. I do not consider that this reading is an evidence of the "new woman," but rather that the Americans do not wish to be behind women of other countries in their ability to compete intellectually with men on national subjects.

"Yes," said another librarian, "there is no denying that women are calling for heavy political works more every day, but," he thoughtfully added, "it has long been a question with me as to their reading them; I think, possibly, the husbands had sent for them."

Leather-Covered Pianos.

A decided novelty in the way of piano casing—the invention of a Milwaukee music dealer—is on exhibition in the University building, Broadway. After several years of study and experiment the inventor hit upon leather as the most attractive as well as the most durable article for incasing pianos. The instrument was built in Buffalo. The color of leather selected for the first specimen instrument was a rich black, handsomely embossed, giving the impression of exquisite carving. Not only does the instrument thus incased present a most attractive and dignified appearance but it has the advantage of being something in finish that cannot be marred or spotted.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

Improving an Old Hospital.

New York Herald: In a little while the old United States Naval hospital on the shores of historic Wallabout will not know itself. It was built in 1839, and for nearly sixty years it has stood there, facing the blasts practically unchanged. Improvements have been made from time to time, but the gray granite walls seem as permanent as the pyramids of Egypt. The repairs now being made will not only enlarge its capacity, but make it good for another sixty years. Congress at its last session appropriated $53,000 to make the improvements.

A LOSS OF $80,000,000!!!

Labor-saving inventions or discoveries have often been violently opposed on the ground that they take workmen's bread out of their mouths. Although experience has shown the fallacy of that theory the feeling, or fear, was natural.

But it is not so much the lack of work as the inability to work that causes poverty and suffering. In England and Wales every working-man averages ten days of sickness every year, with a total loss of wages for all of about $80,000,000 per year. In this country the loss is much greater. In all counties the prevailing disease is indigestion and dyspepsia and its consequences—such as rheumatism, and other ailments resulting from impure blood; a result of dyspepsia.

No thorough, rapid and trustworthy cure for this universal and obstinate malady existed until the Mr. Lebeson (N. Y.) Community of Shakers placed upon the market their now famous remedy called the Staker Digestive Cordial. It is prepared from roots and herbs cultivated solely by them. Nothing more certain, safe and palatable can be imagined. It expels the impurities from the body by means of the bowels, kidneys and skin, and imparts vigor and tone to the stomach—upon whose proper action all our strength, activity and endurance depends. For many years the Shakers have given earnest attention to this subject, and their final success is thankfully admitted by the multitudes who have been cured by the Cordial after all other means have failed. Their high reputation for skill as herbalists, for honesty and religious sincerity guarantees whatever they recommend.

No invention can ever take your work from you if you are able to work. Health and strength are the vital considerations.

It Whistled Itself.

That was the little boy's excuse when he accidentally whistled in school. Just so with our CLOAKS—they're selling themselves. Every day it comes to our ears that our line is superior to any in town, and that the prices named here are the lowest. They have just arrived and will be here for your inspection, our second big line of sample garments, in all about three hundred, among them being many stylish cuts which we have not shown heretofore, being styles that have been produced for mid-season flyers. The cloths are boucles, cheviots and kerseys, and in the latter are some of the nobbiest coats yet brought out. We believe we are doing twice the Cloak business of any concern in town—a statement easy to make but one which we know we can substantiate.

FUR CAPES are receiving no small attention and we call your particular notice to the special values we offer in that very popular fur, the Wool Seai, also in Astrakhan—reliable makes which you can depend on.

JANESVILLE, WIS., Nov. 12—The weather forecast for the next twenty-four hours is fair and warmer that all should think alike. Difference in opinion makes horse racing.

—MARK TWAIN.

Yes, and the difference of opinion sustains the trade of the clothing dealer. It's strange how blind some good people can be to their own interests, in buying the cheap, shoddy suits and overcoats that are advertised. They won't last, they will fade, they will get rusty looking before they are worn a week.

In the Long Run

a high grade suit or overcoat will cost much less per day of actual wear, because it wears proportionally longer. A ten dollar suit will last three times as long as one at five dollars; a twelve dollar one will wear four times as long and look better at that. On Saturday we made many sales of high-grade clothes, especially of our

$12.00 Scotch Cheviot Sack Suits

Good suits, these; saving, cheap. Good, because we have them tailor-made, by Browning, King & Co., -saving, because we sell them--cheap, because they'll out-wear half a dozen of "dealer's" trash. As for looks and style--the patterns are new and we selected each one from the cloth and had them made up into the most famous suits today.
